than before the run on deposits which precipitated the crisis last fall. The strength of the present banking position does not preclude the paying of serious attention to the swift loan expansion of the last few weeks, with contraction of reserves and prospect of further decline. Neglect made prices vulnerable to some reaction from the opening level, although there was nothing like activity at any time during the day.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The weakness in the wheat market late in the day followed a period marked by extreme nervousness, during which prices fluctuated over a range of about I cent. The market opened easy, owing to selling brought out by scattered rains in the southwest and by an official forceast of general waits. scattered rains in the southwest and by an official forecast of general rains to-night over the entire winter wheat belt. The market then rallied sharply on cov-ering by shorts, who were actuated by the relative strength of the New York mar-ket, which was due, it was said, to a good export demand. After another reac-tion on profit-taking the market again be-came strong on buying based on a report good export demand. After another reaction on profit-taking the market again became strong on buying based on a report from Argentina, which claimed that the damage to the wheat crop there by the recent frosts was serious. During the last hour sentiment again became decidedly bearish, and prices slumped off sharply under general selling. The chief reason for the final weakness was the figures on the visible supply of wheat in this country and Canada, which showed an increase of 4.840,000 bushels for the week compared with an increase of 602,000 bushels the corresponding time a year ago.

Talk of a liberal movement of wheat to this market tomorrow from the southwest brought out additional selling. The close was weak at almost the lowest point, with December at 38 @38½, and May at 1.01%.

The feature of trade in corn was the 3,900 13276 13134 132 3,900 59 5836 5884

The feature of trade in corn was the active buying of December by shorts, who were in fear that predicted rains would not only delay the movement, but would also impair the quality of the new crop. The market closed firm at net gains of $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$, with December at $63\frac{1}{2}$ (a64. May closed at $3\frac{1}{2}$.
